FOREWORD

You have inherited a world that is in serious trouble. Every one is preoccupied by the organization of peace. This is the crucial problem which dominates all others. But we hear only of superficial or external solutions such as treaties, summit meetings, and international police. We hear nothing about respect for these treaties, the integrity of the arbitrators, nor the good faith of all, without which these solutions are of no value. Their effectiveness depends entirely upon the moral character of the men who write them and negotiate them.

It is not easy to look beyond human life and lay plans which will provide mankind with a sense of trust and fair play. Man is still closely tied to beastly instincts. Relatively few extraordinary men have been able to rise above ancestral bonds and bargain in good faith. The world needs not one, two, or a dozen more of these outstanding individuals. Thousands are needed! You, the class of 1962 must provide some of this extraordinary character.

I hope that you will have a few less superstitions, a few less prejudices, a few less greeds than my generation has had. I hope you can profit from our blunders and at least leave our world no worse off than you have found it.

John F. Olive

DEDICATION

Whether it's on the gridiron or in the great game of life, he takes the interest of one vitally concerned. His is the reputation for producing fighting and winning teams. When we return from a game defeated, he is pleased if we have given one hundred percent. It is only when we haven't given our all that we are able to get a taste of his displeasure.

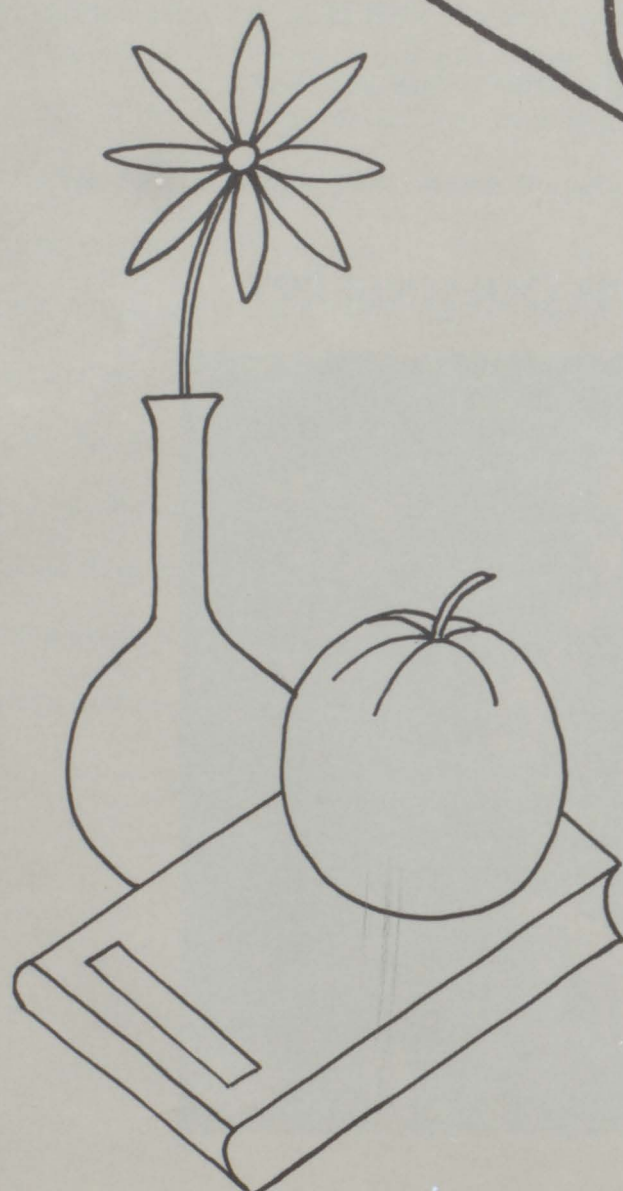

His is the rare quality of eternal cheerfulness and it is with youthful eagerness that he lends a helping hand to any scheme we may undertake. His faith in the class of 1962 has helped us in all we have done.

Any of us returning to Chagrin come back to visit him, our everlasting friend and teacher, and to whom we proudly dedicate this yearbook . . .

Sandi showing a Spanish costume doll.

Sandi Teresko spent the summer in Spain on the A.F.S. program. Her family in Villanueva de Yerri included one sister, two brothers, a mother, and a father. The highlight of her visit in Spain was the festival of San Fermin in Pomplona. She also took a trip to Madrid, Rotterdam, and Paris.

EXCHANGE STUDENTS

Abdul explaining a Cambodian cartoon.

Joyce Alojipan, our exchange student from the Phillippines, spent the year living in Chagrin and attending our school. Her vitality was an asset to our class. We hope she enjoyed her stay as much as we enjoyed having her.

SANDI

Abdul Peangmeth was our A.F.S. student from Cambodia. He taught us many things about the Far East and foreign relations. His ready smile and good humor won him many friends. We will always remember Abdul of Cambodia.

Delores Peace, clerk, Jeff Harden, mayor, Dianne Gliba, treasurer.

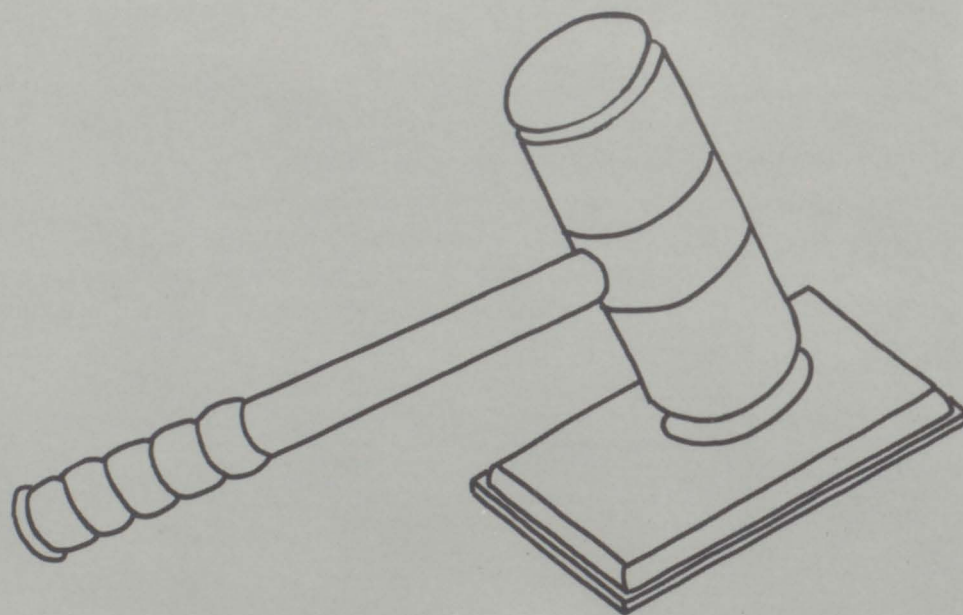

SENIOR GOV'T DAY

Senior Government Day was Better Than Ever. The campaigns were waged with enthusiasm. The Progressive Contentionist Party took most of the offices its members ran for. Jeff Harden was elected mayor, Delores Peace clerk, and Dianne Gliba treasurer. Council seats were taken by Ronnie Brooks, John Biel, Mark Laderer, Dave Higley, Pat Petitt, and Susie Sutton. Carolyn Anderson, Craig Dunbar, Jamie Wade, John Engstrom, and Betsy Riegler were elected to Board of Education.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council of Chagrin Falls High School serves as a link between the student body and the faculty and administration. Its purpose is to promote and practice good citizenship, to provide for student participation in school government, develop the quality of leadership, promote better understanding between faculty and students. Also it coordinates and promotes student activities, stimulates and develops a healthy school spirit, and promotes the general welfare of the school.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Brains at work.

Members of National Honor Society are chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and service, with the intention of honoring the well-rounded student. To be eligible for membership and retain it a student must maintain at least a "B" average.

The main projects of the club include the Honor Society Assembly and the Honors Banquet.

JUNIOR COUNCIL ON WORLD AFFAIRS

The purpose of J.C.W.A. is to develop in its members a definite knowledge of and concern for world affairs. Each week its members meet to become more familiar with the present world situation either through discussions or with the aid of a speaker. The highlight of every year is the club's participation in the Model U.N. Assembly.

Varsity Club

The members of the Varsity Club wish to unite the members of the numerous athletic squads into an organization which would benefit both the athletic department and the individual members. This group of lettermen, who obviously entertain common interests would work in such areas as: 1. building school spirit, 2. aiding sports funds. From these efforts, we hope that any member of the school would be proud to carry the title of a Tiger letterman.
