Chagrin Falls, Ohio
1971

foreword

Note to a Friend at Another School

Hi,

I had time last period so I thought I'd write to let you know what's happening with graduation. So far, the guys are nothing but wild with the idea that they won't have to be here by 8:00 every morning or they can smoke if they want. I must admit that leaving this place seems hard to believe, but, you know something, as it gets closer to graduation I get more afraid. When you think about it, the last four years have been pretty good. At least in that time, we all went to school together and did the same things, and I think that was good. We always had someone when we need him. Next year and later, things'll be really different.

Do you realize that next year, if I go to college (and I still haven't made up my mind yet) I'll be on my own? I won't know anyone on campus. It'll be like starting kindergarten again only this time, people will expect more from me. I really feel frightened when I think I will have to be writing research papers or leading discussions and there won't be anyone around to tell me just the way it should be done. And even going to college won't be half as bad as not going to school at all. Some of those guys will be out working 50 weeks a year so they can take a 2 week vacation.

Another thing that frightens me is that all the rapping we did the last few years about pollution control and racial equality and ending wars and not being so materialistic will soon be put on the line. I suppose our class did as much talking about these things as any other class and now we're going to have to prove ourselves. Can you imagine what will happen to this world if we aren't different? If we don't show that the idealism we have now is not translatable to 20 years of experience out of school? I shudder at the thought that we won't do anything. I'm hopeful that we will, though.

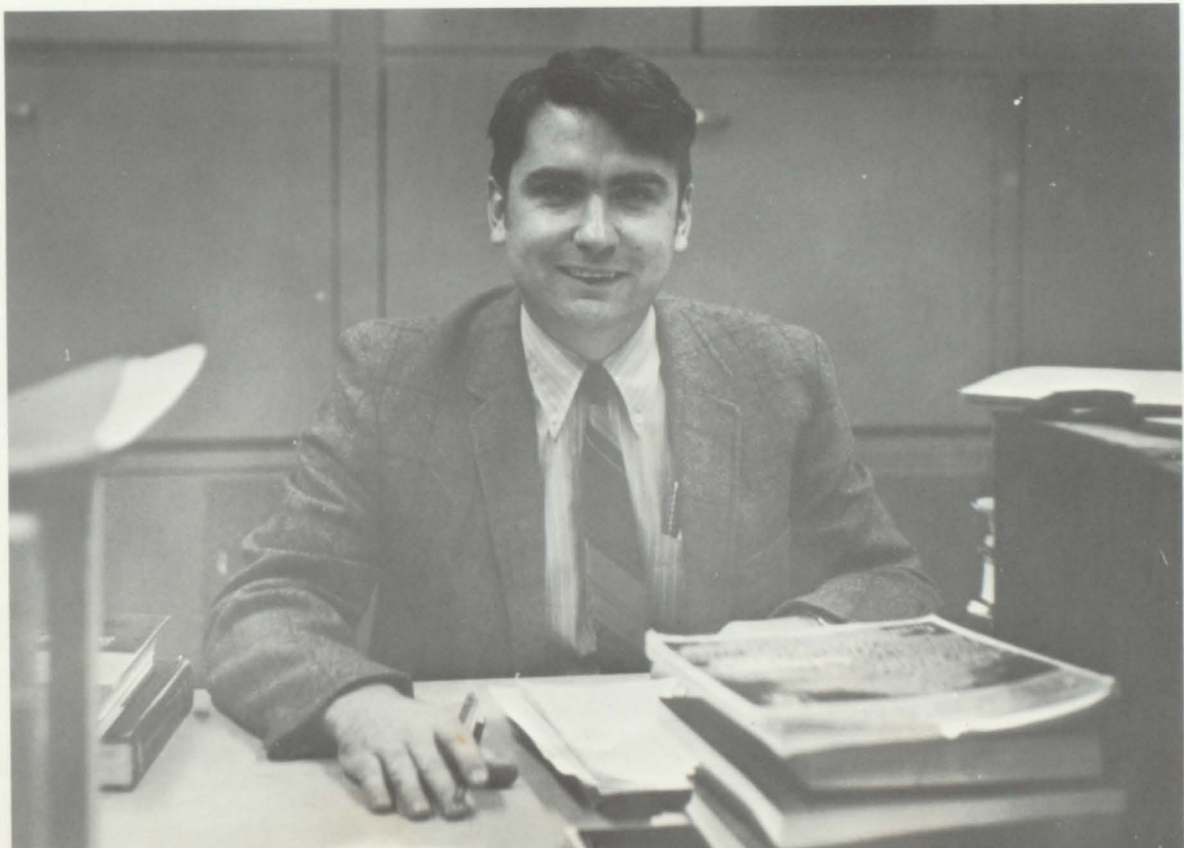

I want to leave and, in spite of it all, I don't want to leave. Our education was good but we'll see how well prepared we are now that the preliminaries are over and the real battles are about to begin. I promise to keep you informed from time to time as to just how those battles are coming.

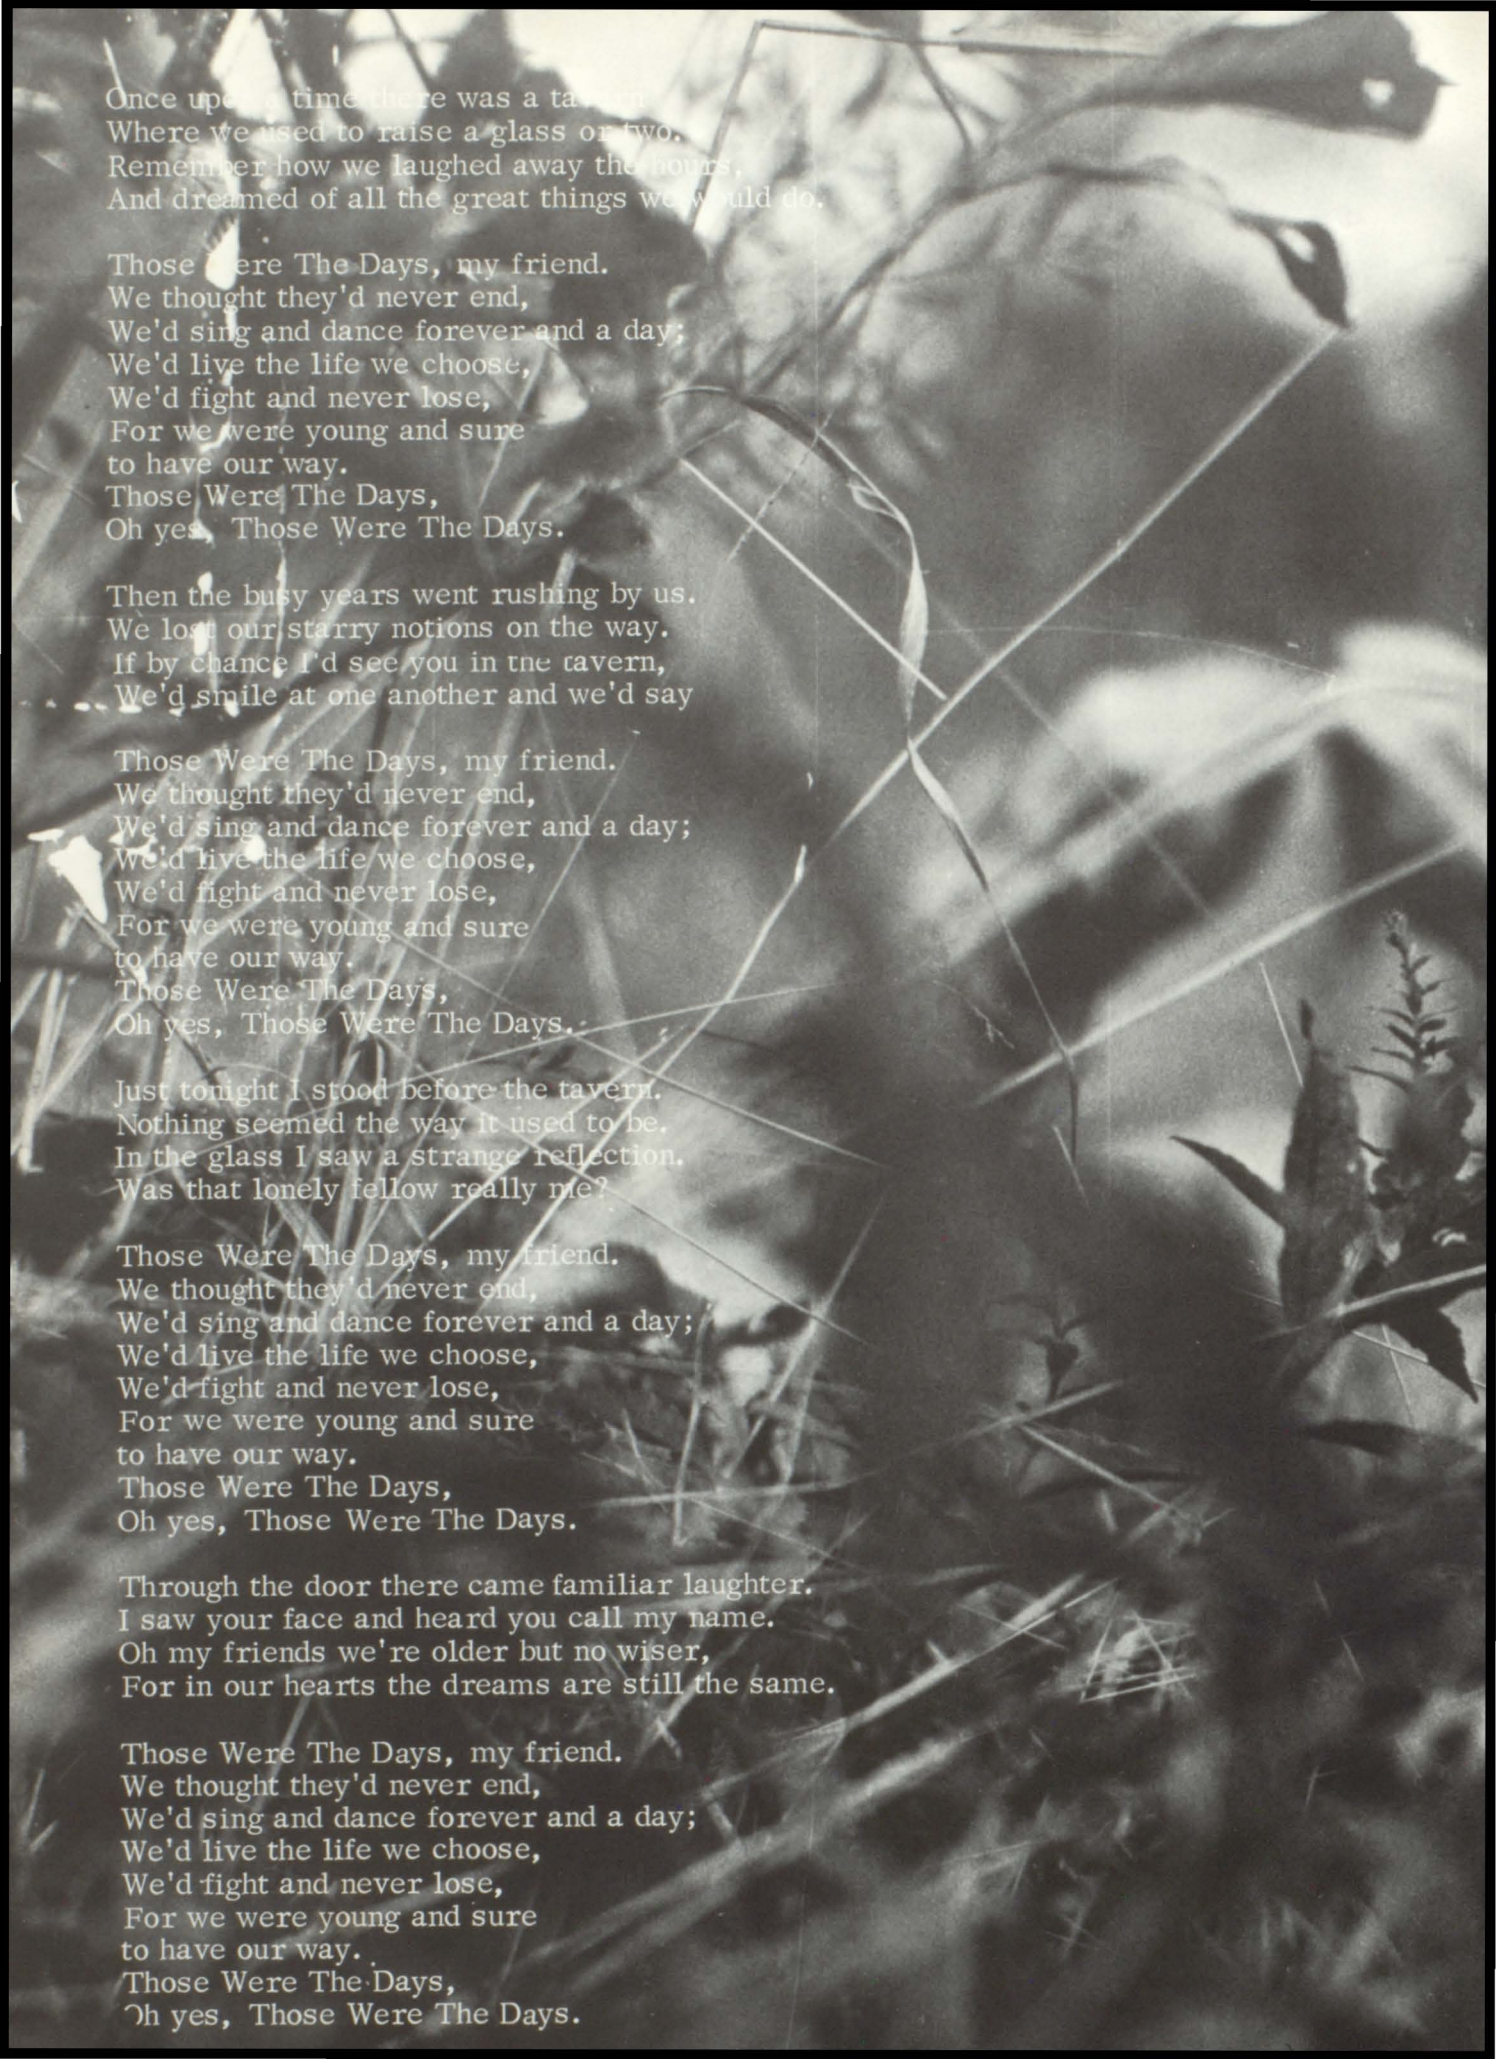

So long for now,
James Cowan
(our freshman year advisor and former teacher)

dedication

In years past, dedications have been trite, so we thought seriously of not having one this year. But, we have a man most deserving of this honor. A man with a smile everpresent upon his face. He is a teacher, coach, class advisor, and most important, a friend. As a teacher of Mathematics, he brought a warmth to the classroom with his easy-going style. One learned about math there, without even knowing that he was learning. As a coach, his enthusiasm radiated throughout the baseball and basketball seasons. To play for this man, one learned to be dedicated. One appreciated the privilege of playing for him and would do anything for him just as he would do for you. He guided our class through three years of concessions, floats, money raising projects and last, but not least, last year's prom. He respected us as individuals and because of this we respected and admired him. Through close association with this remarkable man, one did look upon him as much as a teacher or coach but as a friend. Therefore, in deep appreciation we dedicate this 1971 Zenith to

Mr. Robert Ohlrich

Once upon a time there was a tavern
Where we used to raise a glass or two.
Remember how we laughed away the hours,
And dreamed of all the great things we would do.

Those Were The Days, my friend.
We thought they'd never end,
We'd sing and dance forever and a day;
We'd live the life we choose,
We'd fight and never lose,
For we were young and sure
to have our way.
Those Were The Days,
Oh yes, Those Were The Days.

Then the busy years went rushing by us.
We lost our starry notions on the way.
If by chance I'd see you in the tavern,
We'd smile at one another and we'd say

Those Were The Days, my friend.
We thought they'd never end,
We'd sing and dance forever and a day;
We'd live the life we choose,
We'd fight and never lose,
For we were young and sure
to have our way.
Those Were The Days,
Oh yes, Those Were The Days.

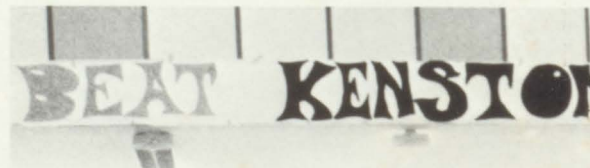

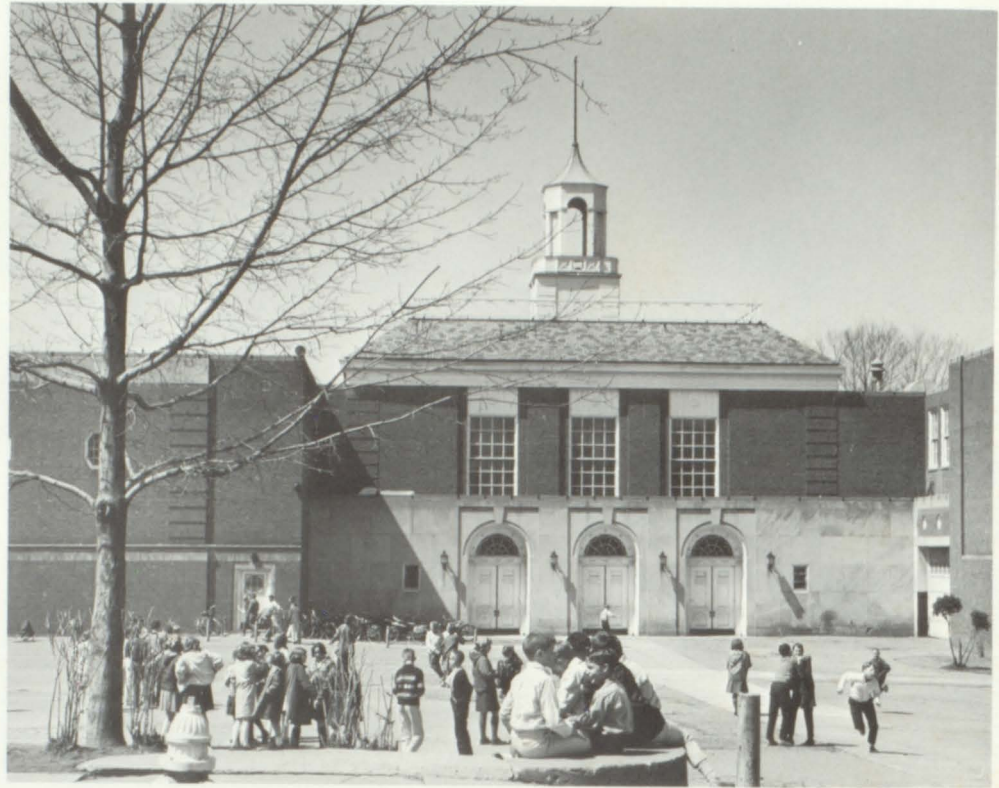

Just tonight I stood before the tavern.
Nothing seemed the way it used to be.
In the glass I saw a strange reflection.
Was that lonely fellow really me?

Those Were The Days, my friend.
We thought they'd never end,
We'd sing and dance forever and a day;
We'd live the life we choose,
We'd fight and never lose,
For we were young and sure
to have our way.
Those Were The Days,
Oh yes, Those Were The Days.

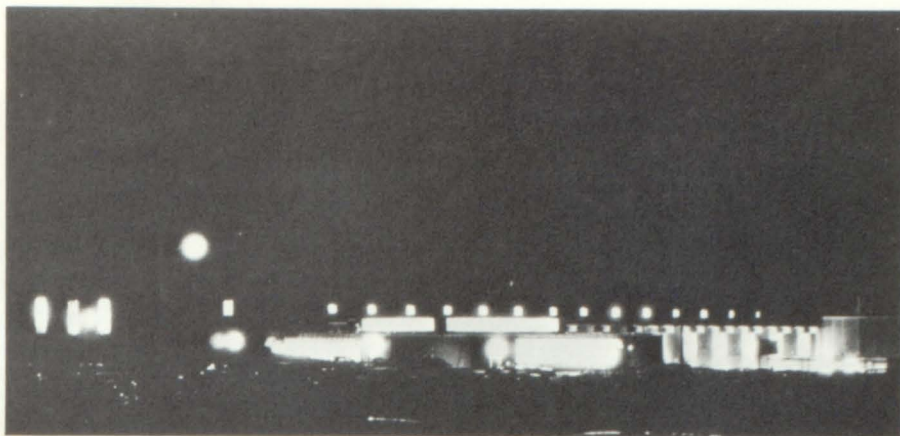

Through the door there came familiar laughter.
I saw your face and heard you call my name.
Oh my friends we're older but no wiser,
For in our hearts the dreams are still the same.

Those Were The Days, my friend.
We thought they'd never end,
We'd sing and dance forever and a day;
We'd live the life we choose,
We'd fight and never lose,
For we were young and sure
to have our way.
Those Were The Days,
Oh yes, Those Were The Days.

with the ball i go (backward)
and search for my receiver
everywhere i see the wrong color
coming at me
closer
closer
looming ahead
i clutch the ball
tight
inhale and jerk left and run
leap and surge ahead
hey
i'm all alone
they're all behind me
we're gonna win

it's saturday morning
and i could have slept in but instead

i'm on the line of scrimmage
and if i could just get the ball
i know i could outrun them and coach would be so shocked cause i'd made the td

hey look!

i've got it
and i'm running
past the 20, the 10, on the 5 yd. line...oh no.
why am i always on the bottom of the heap?
i should have slept in.

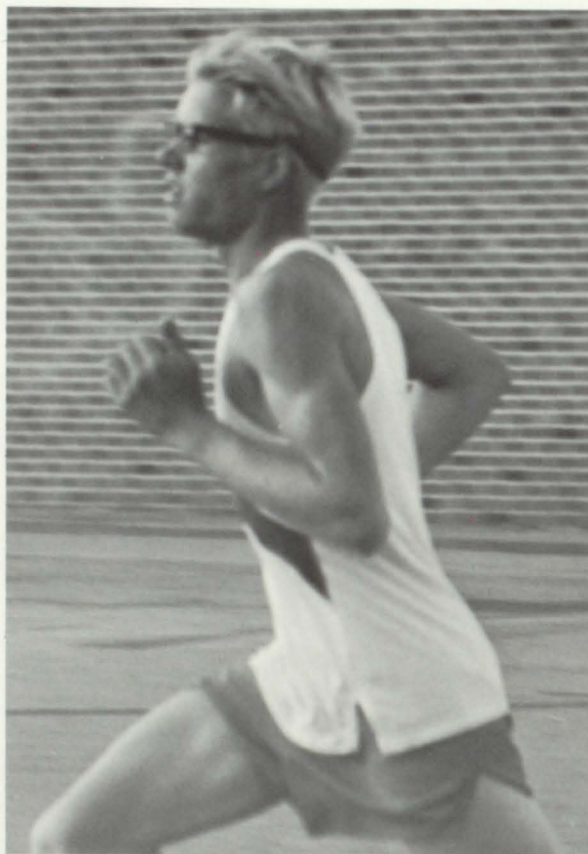

those were the miles
 my friend
 we thought they'd never end
 through rain and darkness
 mud and slush
 on to columbus
 we ran
 and won!!!

hey, hey, hey, Tigers!
you look so good to me
you've beaten kenston, aurora
chardon, orange, west g.,
you couldn't pull first place
but just the same
you won for coach wyville

acknowledgements

We, the editors of the 1971 Zenith, would like to thank Kathy Blair Bochik for our cover design, Mr. James Cowan for our forward, Sue Lackey for all her help in the audio-visual and dark room, and Mr. Ted Zaboly for all his photographic help. We also would like to thank some of our deserving staff and non-staff help: Linda Bartlett, our copy editor; Beth Black our business manager; Brye Davis, one of our photographers; Sue Giesse for all of her late-nite help (even though she always feel asleep); Kathy Ogden for being a faithful and reliable staffer; Trudy Paul for her moral boosting and help even though she wasn't officially on the staff; Janet Rush for her unsolicited help (only kidding, Janet); Betsy Taylor for all of her innovative ideas; especially Eric Zaboly for his untiring help with Barb's photographs; and last but not least, our parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blair, and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Rush for their understanding, patience, and the use of their homes for our always loud and often raucous all-nighters.
